HANNA IS HOPEFUL

Indications Now Are That the Bolting Combine in Ohio Has Lost Its Grip.

REPUBLICANS IN EARNEST

Demand That Their Representatives Obey Their Instructions to Vote for Mr. Hanna—Kurtz Issues a Manifesto.

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—There are reliable reports today indicating that Hanna has the necessary 73 votes.

The opposition depended upon the following ten Republicans voting with the 65 Democratic members of the legislature: Representatives Mason and Bramley, of Cuyahoga; Jones, of Stark; Griffith, of Union; Oles, of Hamilton; Scott, of Fulton; Redkey, of Highland; Rutan, of Carroll; Manuel, of Montgomery; Senator Burke, of Cleveland.

This would make the joint ballot stand 73 to 70 against Hanna.

At a public meeting held in Dayton last night, at which resolutions were adopted condemning Governor Bushnell and the bolting Republican members and demanding that Charles L. Kurtz resign as the Ohio member of the national Republican committee, Representative Manuel made a speech pleading himself unequally for Hanna.

Representatives Griffith, of Union, and Jones, of Stark, are reported to have done the same thing at their homes. And there are like reports from Rutan, of Carroll, and Redkey, of Highland.

There are apparently 72 members pledged to Hanna publicly, but that is one short and the opposition concede no loss except Manuel.

The anti-Hanna men admit that, after securing control of both branches of the legislature, they made the mistake of adjourning from Wednesday to Monday and having the members go home till inauguration day. The Republican members, co-operating with the Democrats against Hanna, were thus confronted with indignation meetings at their homes which are likely to turn the tide in favor of Hanna.

The opposition made persistent efforts last night for Senator Foraker to come here, but the senator left Cincinnati for Washington without stopping at Columbus. All efforts to get either Foraker or John R. McLean here have failed and they are credited with being the two great factors in the "combine."

Hanna's Election Claimed.
Columbus, Jan. 8.—Representative Griffith announced to a meeting of his constituents last night and again today, that he did not want to vote for Senator Hanna, but if it was his wish, he would do so. There is no lack of effort in Union county now on the part of the people to express their wishes to their representatives.

The Hanna list stood 73 to 71 against the senator yesterday, but, with the changes of Manuel and Griffith, the Hanna men claim that they have the necessary 73 votes to 72 for the opposition.

Kurtz Claims Hanna's Defeat.

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—Charles L. Kurtz, leader of the opposition to Hanna, today handed the following to a representative of the Associated Press: "The incuriousness of the claims by Hanna were proved by the test votes in the matter of the house organization. He claimed the organization up to the time the test vote was taken and lost. The same claims are being made again on the senatorship and the result will be the same. Hanna will not be elected senator."

JUDGE LYNCH RAMPANT.

Murderers and Rapists Hanged by Mobs This Morning—Arkansas and Wisconsin Scenes of Violence.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 8.—Four colored men have been lynched in the vicinity of Bearden, Ark., within the past few days. Two were rapists and two murderers. The rapists, Devoe and Huntley, were swung up near the Harlow mill ranch, about three miles north of Bearden, while the murderers met their fate near the church house at Little Bay, a few miles south of Bearden. The work was done by separate mobs.

Devoe and Huntley were lynched for a crime committed a year ago. They attempted to outrage Mrs. Palm, a respectable white woman, in Bearden. Both negroes escaped and remained out of that vicinity for twelve months.

The two other men lynched were accused of the murder of Bart Frederick, in charge of the water pump for the Cotton Belt railroad, at Kingland, a few days ago. Frederick was thrown from a bicycle and murdered. His pockets were rifled and a watch taken.

CIVIL SERVICE SCORCHED.

Congressman Hepburn Says the Public has Been Misled by High Sounding Titles.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The civil service debate was continued in the house today until 2 o'clock. The remainder of the session, under special order, was devoted to eulogizing the memory of the late Representative Wright, of Massachusetts.

On the civil service question, Congressman Corlies, representing from Michigan, was the first speaker today. He favored radical modifications of the law. He thought that constitutionally the heads of the departments were clothed with the power for appointing their subordinates. To that extent he thought, if tested, the law would be unconstitutional. He believed that the right of removal should be restored and the tenure of office limited. Congressman Hepburn, Republican, of Iowa, spoke an hour against what he termed the popular impression of the so-called merit system. "The public," he argued, had been utterly misled by the high sounding titles used in referring to it. In some things the old system at its best, was superior to the new. "My colleagues in this house," said he, "know the qualifications of their constituents and in the selection of candidates for office have everything at stake. I believe there is greater possibility in action, wisdom in selection and beneficent result under the old system than in this dark delusory method into which we have fallen in this latter time."

The appointing power, and the power of removal should be lodged in the same hands and should be unlimited. Amid a burst of applause from the galleries and floor he insisted that political workers were entitled to and should be accorded recognition. If there were to be no reward for workers, the workers in the future would be more and more loyal to rich contributors instead of their party and their country. If the present system was continued, the influence of rich men in politics would grow steadily. Congressman Hepburn said he knew his frank expressions would earn criticism for him, and it would probably be said that he placed himself on a low political plane, but these were his convictions and he would utter them. Congressman Clark (Republican of New Hampshire), closed the debate for today with some remarks in favor of modifying the law. He said "any old thing" was better than the present law. (Laughter.)

Civil Service Position Tendered.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Ex-Representative Mark S. Brewer, of Michigan, has been tendered the position as a member of the civil service commission. Mr. Brewer was a colleague of Major McKinley in the house, and an original McKinley advocate for president in Michigan.

Brown's sons, of this city, and was valued at $25,000.

JOSE B. SERNA KILLED.

The remains of Jose B. Serna, the oldest son of Mr. Francisco Serna, of Espanola, passed through Santa Fe this morning to the family home.

The young man met his death near Rio Puerco, in Valencia county, by the accidental discharge of a rifle in his own hands. He was in charge in a sheepherders' camp, and on Thursday morning, while packing the camp effects preparatory to moving, grasped the rifle by the muzzle and pulled it toward him. The gun caught in the bushes and was discharged, the ball passing through his body, causing death in about three hours. The remains were taken across the country by two boys, F. Salazar and M. Garcia, to Albuquerque, where prepared for burial and shipped to his home. The deceased was 23 years of age and bore an excellent reputation in his home town. The funeral took place this afternoon.

YELLOW TREASURES

Colorado Capitalists Have Undertaken the Task of Developing Red River District.

NEW MEXICO CRIPPLE CREEK

Red River Surface Indications More Promising Than Were Those of the Phenomenal Gold Camp—Important Work Projected.

The NEW MEXICAN yesterday made mention of the fact that Charles F. Potter, an attorney of Colorado Springs, had entered for a Colorado syndicate, at the United States land office in Santa Fe, 147½ acres of placer ground in the Red River mining district of Taos county, N. M.

Realizing that Mr. Potter not only takes front rank as a mining lawyer in Colorado, but represents a goodly amount of Denver, Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek capital, which is seeking investment in desirable mining properties in New Mexico as well as in Colorado, a representative of this paper sought an interview with him at the Exchange hotel this morning and was amply rewarded for doing so.

Mr. Potter has been actively interested, as an attorney and operator, in the phenomenal gold camp of Cripple Creek since 1892, and his attention and that of his associates was attracted to the Red River district about three years ago by its striking surface resemblances to the formation at Cripple Creek. Since then he and those with whom he is working have quietly and thoroughly examined the entire district, and as a result there have been organized the Red River City, Town & Mining company, and in its name have acquired a good deal of property in the district for extensive and systematic development.

"Of course such enterprises as we have undertaken were not possible so long as the Rio Colorado grant cloud hung over the district," said Mr. Potter, "but since the grant claim has been rejected by the United States court of private land claims and the appeal has been dismissed by the United States Supreme court, perfect titles can be secured and mined, men are no longer afraid to invest therein. We have a strong Denver, Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek combination in our company whereby we expect to get a good deal of capital into the district for development purposes."

"Dr. J. T. Reed, of Colorado Springs, who was prominently connected with the development of Cripple Creek and is a thoroughly trustworthy and competent mining man, has made a very exhaustive examination of the Red River district and has made a most favorable report thereon. It is his opinion, as well as my own," continued Mr. Potter, "that there is every indication that the district will develop into a prosperous gold producer. He has been made president and general manager of the Red River company and has permanently located at Red River City with his family."

"The actual development in the district so far is slight," added Mr. Potter, "but the surface indications are most encouraging, much more promising in fact than the indications on the surface at Cripple Creek. The entire Red River valley, from about five miles above Red River City down about 18 miles to Questa, is composed of gold bearing gravel and decomposed quartz, which will some day be worked as placer ground. This auriferous material is due to the erosions of thousands of years and seems to center at Red River City."

"Aside from the placer ground, the mineralized area shows the eruptive rocks in the form of great dikes of porphyry and phonite, and the best bodies of mineral take the form of contact veins with smooth porphyry and phonite walls, but my impression is that deep mining will disclose the fact that the veins have been forced up through the granite in association with the porphyry and phonite."

"The development work so far shows the ore to be largely of a hematite character of medium to low grade, but specimens of float and small seams have assayed into the thousands in gold. The
